Huss asking for more time, more room, more help

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

During a special meeting held last Tuesday morning, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners addressed the issue of Prosecutor John Huss' part-time work status, as well as the need for more space and help within his offices.

Huss is asking for an annual salary of $82,000 in exchange for his full time services to the County and dissolution of his private law practice. "It would let someone be in here five days a week, maybe six," Huss explained to the Board.

"Would this help get your backlog of cases down?" asked Harold Golnick, District Commissioner.

'We can't keep up with the way · it's going now," Huss said. "I can tell you that in the last five or six years, the juvenile courts have just gone ballistic.

"We used to appear in that court two or three times a year. Now, it's every week. And, not just one case, but one, two, three or four cases,'

"I don't know if juvenile crime has increased or if the nature of the courts has allowed cases to go further. I just know we can't do it with two part timers (prosecutors). Judge Davis is adamant about that," he

Huss continued, "We have problems, major problems, mistakes are being made, and things are sliding and slipping away from us."

District 2 Commissioner Scott Hanson asked why Huss should be paid so much when prosecutors in nearby counties are paid between $50,000 and $60,000 annually.

Some figures brought forward at the meeting were the salaries of the Grand Traverse County Prosecutor at over $84,000 per year, Otsego's at $78,000 and Presque Isle at $67,000.

County Chair Lynnette Corlew explained to her board that Huss feels his request is not out of line, considering he has 30 years of law experience and that's what taxpayers will be paying for if the board agrees

Library donor's name revealed as County adopts resolution New library to be named in honor of donor's parents

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

On December 7, less than 24 hours after the Crawford County Library Board passed a resolution to accept a $500,000 donation from Leslie Devereaux, the County Board of Commissioners put their stamp of approval on the same.

The resolution was presented to the County Board by library board president, Terry Wright, and was read into record by District 2 Commissioner Scott Hanson. It was adopted by a unanimous vote, with all six commissioners present.

Contained in the language was a description of the current library building as "woefully inadequate in size to allow the delivery of necessary and desired literary services," and a statement of intent by those involved in the new library project to obtain necessary construction two issues on the August ballot — funding through continued promotion and encouragement of private donations, as well as an approximate $1.5 million bond issue.

Further, Devereaux's donation is dependent on the approval of the August 8, 2000 bond issue by county voters and the new library being named "The Richard and Adeline Devereaux Library for Crawford County," in honor of her mother and late father, longtime property owners and part-year residents of South Branch Township.

Wright discussed with the commissioners the details of funding, stating the project will cost about $2 million to be covered, most likely, by a 10-year bond at about 7.5 percent interest. "To the average homeowner, it should cost about $25 or $30 per year," he said.

Wright also said there would be one for the new building costs and one for operating expenses, which would come up for renewal on a much smaller scale, in 2010. Both bond issues must be approved before Devereaux would finalize her Originally, the Library Board was looking at total financing of the project, but would be able to reduce the issue by one-quarter because of Devereaux's generous donation, if the voters approve.

Wright said his board has some money in the bank that could be applied to the project, but would prefer to save it for future expenses or expanded library services. Ultimately, the final bond amount will depend on final design and construction cost estimates.

The bond amount could be further reduced by a campaign to collect private donations.

Porter has agreed to perform as a moderator at the proceedings. Both the County Board and legal counsel for Raymond Swiercz and Robert Nelson approve of his selection.

The County Board, with much regret, understands that in order to have Judge Porter present, the delay is unavoidable. The commissioners discussed at their Personnel Committee meeting on December 9, the possibility of finding another moderator that both sides could agree on, but were unable to come up with a replacement that day.

District 3 Commissioner and Personnel Committee Chair Shelley Pinkelman asked Prosecutor John Huss why the proceedings were being held in a court setting. He responded: "A - This is not going to stop here. If I were a betting man I would say if you were to remove them you'll find yourself in the Court of Appeals in 30-45 days.

"B - We'll have a court recorder and a transcript, and it's not going to be he said, he said or he said, she said. We are actually going to have a transcript of what's taken place.

"C - We are going to have a moderator so that people will behave themselves and we can stick to the issues pertaining to the hearing."

RE-APPOINTED - 46th Circuit Court Chief Judge Alton T. Davis was re-appointed to a two-year term last week by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The Honorable Alton T. Davis was re-appointed on December 7 as Chief Judge of the 46th Circuit Court for a two-year term beginning January 1, 2000. Michigan Supreme Court appointed a total of 27 chief judges for the Court of Appeals and trial courts across the state last Tuesday.

Chief judges are the chief execu tive officers of their courts. They are responsible for financial and personnel management, coordinating workload, and managing relations with county or city funding units, other justice agencies, and the public. They are also responsible for ensuring that the Supreme Court's administrative policies are carried out within their jurisdic-

Chief judges administer guidelines and standards to improve court performance. In selecting chief judges, the Supreme Court seeks individuals well qualified to assume the responsibilities of the position as described in Michigan court rules.

The Court bases its selection on judicial experience, training, and leadership qualities. It also considers the ability to motivate and work collegially with fellow judges and court administrative staff while fostering a climate of innovation and change.

The Michigan Supreme Court assumed the responsibility of appointing chief judges in 1995 to increase accountability and responsiveness within the judicial system and foster consistent judicial services in all state courts.

to a one-year contract with Huss until the next election.

Huss stressed that the Grand Traverse Prosecutor doesn't appear in court on many cases, including the Kaylee Bruce case. "Read the newspapers and see how many cases he's tried," the prosecutor said. "He had a murder trial he didn't try -- that young girl that got butchered in the motel - a high-profile, first-degree murder case and he sat in his office pushing papers."

Corlew said that Huss' office has faced the scheduling of 25 cases in one day and, even though the majority are pleaded out and some adjourned, the prosecutor is still responsible for preparing each case for its day in court. Corlew also pointed out other prosecutors have more staff to help, including Otsego County which works with a support staff of five. Huss has at his disposal the equivalent of 1.5 staff members and handles more cases than the Otsego court.

Huss told the Board the main thing the County needs is to have someone there everyday to be able to provide opinions and answer questions when they arise. The prosecutor is also requesting more room because he doesn't like everyone bumping into each other just to perform routine tasks and would like to hire more office help.

Huss said that revenues generated from suits, as a result of having a full time prosecutor, will help pay the cost of his requests.

This issue will be on the December 15 County Board regular meeting agenda.

In an article that appeared in the December 9 issue of the Avalanche concerning a proposed communications tower to be erected near the County Building, a cell phone charge of $3.55 per minute was quoted by County Controller Paul Compo. According to Cellular One, that charge should have been quoted as 35 cents per minute. We regret the error and any confusion it may have caused.

We're happy to take this time to express our very best wishes for a merry Christmas, along with our sincere thanks.

MEN ON MARS -- America's space program has been frustratingly unable to do very much about exploring Mars.

Latest setback: The Mars Polar Lander and its separate twin mini-probes have been pronounced dead. We don't even know where the bodies are.

More than $2 billion in Mars spacecraft has been lost, beginning with the 1993 disappearance of the Mars Observer, causing "a major rethinking of the Mars program," according to one news report.

I should hope so. But I think I've figured out what's really going on.

There really are little red creatures living up on Mars, and every time we send up one of our spacecraft, they capture it, figure it represents life on other planets, and spirit it off into the Martian hinterlands for poking

Of course, nothing like that would ever happen on this planet ... or would it?

CUTTING GOVERNMENT -- Gov. John Engler, champion of smaller government, has been whacking away at big state government for nine years now.

The State Department of Education has been a favorite target. Using nine executive orders, he has whittled Education from 2.058 employees in 1998, to 338 employees at year's end.

However, all these employees have only gone into other state departments. By and large, the jobs are the same, the people are the same, the size of government has not changed.

Of course, the aim is not lower payrolls—candidate's appearance.

PARENTS IN JAIL -- In efforts to curb truancy in Michigan schools, parents of absent students potentially could face jail

The premise is that parents are responsible to get their kids to school, and if the kids don't go, the parent should pay.

Okay, so parents go to jail because their kids don't go to school. While Mom and Dad are in the hoosegow, who will get their reluctant kids out of bed, out the door and off to school? The government?

WHO PAYS? -- A Letter to the Editor in The Detroit Free Press expresses dismay at news stories about Texas Gov. George W. Bush's recent visit to Michigan.

The writer cites a press release issued by John Truscott, Gov. Engler's right-hand spokesperson, about the GOP presidential

"The taxpayers of Michigan are paying Truscott to be the press secretary for Engler, not Bush. This is a blatant misuse of a state employee," claims the writer. "Hopefully Bush or his election committee will reimburse us for Truscott's work."

Fat chance.

This happens all the time, of course. It's difficult for an appointed public official such as John Truscott -- whose primary role is to serve the guy who gave him his job -to split duties between official and political actions, especially when election time nears.

When staffers do political work for their bosses, they often claim they're on annual leave or vacation, and stay on the public payroll anyway.

How about the politicians themselves when they're running for re-election, or worse yet, for another job?

Should we pay full salary to U.S. Rep. Debbie Stabenow while she spends much of her time and effort trying to move up to the several Michigan newspapers.

King James Bible is the only true version of God's word find their prejudice against homosexual persons affirmed by this blatant mistranslation." (Page 143 of Living in Sin (A Bishop Rethinks Human Sexuality) by Anglican Bishop John Shelby Spong, Harper, San Francisco, 1988).

But is the King James Bible a "blatant mistranslation," or have modern versions like the New International Version been subtly mistranslated? For example, Carl Graham in his work entitled The Proper Perspective on the Bible Sodomy and the NIV gives evidence of an attempted removal of sodomy from the NIV. Along with the textual evidence supporting this accusation. Graham reports that one of the

Prosecutor should leave it to Board

After attending meetings of the County Board over the past several months, it is clear to me that the Prosecutor has caused unnecessary delay and untold costs for a process and procedure that is simple by law. The recall procedure is a governmental process, in the hands of our County Board, not a judicial proceeding directed by Mr. Huss.

After an extensive investigation, the Board of Commissioners was ready to hold the required recall hearing back on October 18, 1999. At that time the Prosecutor threw a monkey wrench into the proceedings, causing additional costs and delay. The Avalanche did an excellent job of keeping its readers informed with the December 9, 1999 article: "County Board miffed by Huss' unauthorized postponement."

It sure looks like our Prosecutor just doesn't know what he is doing, or worse he is deliberately confusing a straight forward process by creating chaos in the Courthouse. Since he has not been able to present the road commission recall proceeding forthrightly and without delay, perhaps it is time he stepped aside and let justice be done. If he can't figure out how to do that, perhaps the County Board could show him.

literary consultants for the languages underlying the NIV translation is a lesbian and/or sodomite. He quoted Dr. Virginia Ramey Mollenkott's own testimony from an interview in the Episcopal publication, Witness (June, 1991, pages 20-23). This may help explain why the KJB is being attacked by the sodomite community, and also why sodomy is disappearing from some modern Bible versions.

But how can the KJB be attacked as a "blatant mistranslation" for attacking sodomy and your charges against King James be true? You said,"King James was homosexual." Your accusations are inconsistent with both history and logic. Do sodomites hate both King James and the KJB because they are under conviction for their sodomy sins? As Jesus said in John 3:20, "For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved."

Please read through the Gospel of John from the King James Bible. (I'll leave a copy for you at the Avalanche office.) Maybe you will come to know the real author of the Bible! May I also suggest you read "Foxes Book of Martyrs" to correct your revisionist views of Christian history. You are invited to Calvary Baptist Church. ### Washington Update Michiganians place a high value on our Great Lakes. Their natural beauty. The wildlife they support. The commerce they facilitate. The fresh water they provide. All these benefits have helped our state prosper and grow while remaining a beautiful place to live. And they come straight from our lakes.

But the Great Lakes also impose responsibilities on all of us. Wise use and preservation are critical for the sake of ourselves, the lakes and the greater environment. And increasing demands for fresh water could jeopardize these goals.

In particular, a number of states in the Southwest have been fighting over fresh water for years. They are growing fast, and have little water of their own. As a result, people in the southwest have been willing to go farther and farther to find fresh water they can transport south.

We can't let them get hold of the Great Lakes. For almost 15 years now, Great Lakes Governors have joined with our friends in Canada to manage our great national resource. authority to protect the Great Lakes ecosystem. This has meant reviewand removals in the Great Lakes Basin.

Currently, if a state or commercial enterprise wishes to draw large amounts of water from the lakes, that state or enterprise must gain the unanimous approval of all the Great Lakes Governors. And that's the way it should be. As Governor John Engler put it, "We live here, we work here and we are better equipped to effectively protect and defend this precious natural resource.

Unfortunately, the federal government too often violates the basic rule that people in their own states and localities are best able to tend to by U.S. Senator Spence Abraham their own resources and needs. With other states eveing our water, it is time to make certain that the federal government does not undermine local and regional control over the Great Lakes.

Last month the International Joint Commission, responding to requests from the U.S. and Canadian governments, issued an interim report on the effects of consumptive uses, diversions and removals of water in the Great Lakes Basin. That report recommended a moratorium on all bulk removals and sales of Great Lakes water until a final report is released, probably in February of next year. Several members of Congress were quick to propose legislation enacting this moratorium. Unfortunately, their legislation would hand over to the federal government the authority to regulate diversions and withdrawals from our Great Lakes Basin upon release of that report.

This would be a grave mistake. We must do everything in our power to keep control over our water here, in our region. That is why I have They have exercised their collective joined with Congressman Dave Camp (R-Michigan) to introduce legislation that would both enact the ing consumptive uses, diversions recommended moratorium and leave the ultimate authority for export approval in the hands of the Great Lakes Governors.

> The moratorium would remain in effect until the Governors agree upon an export mechanism. The Governors would develop the mechanism in cooperation with Canadian Provincial Premiers, but it would not depend on their approval to take effect.

> Through this legislation we Michiganians can retain control over what is perhaps our most precious natural resource. And who knows better than Michiganians how to take care of Michigan's resources? Certainly not Washington.

by Dixie Lobsinger, Director Animal Shelter of Crawford County

On Friday, I received a call from Keith, the animal control officer in Otsego County. Keith wanted to know if I was ready to have a "no kill" animal shelter yet. My answer was "no." A shelter where animals are not killed has been my dream. but until the numbers are right, it is not possible.

For four months this summer, 1 cared for 60 animals daily, with very little help. My wonderful volunteers have grown and gone off to their adult lives. No replacements have come to take their places.

Thirty of these animals were abused and/or neglected. They take a lot of work, time, and money. When we were done in court they were all spayed and neutered with the help of a couple of other groups and all of them got homes. Those who came and were not tied up in court had to pay the price because they could not be held as long as I have taken in more cats and kittens than I have seen in years. Often I had to euthanize twice a week because the shelter could hold no more, but there were more coming. I am not here because I like to kill animals.

I have repeatedly asked this community to make educated, responsible choices when getting a pet, put identification on them, get them spayed or neutered, and always make the shelter your first call when they are missing.

Many beautiful animals still come here and are never returned to their

Child Killing Evils

You may remember in our September 23, 1999 column entitled "Child Enthanasia." we wrote: Netherlands plans to legalize mercy killings for children as young as 12 years of age. One of the most liberal countries in the world which has already legalized drugs, prostitution; and euthanasia is considering a bill which proposes immunity from criminal prosecution for doctors who perform euthanasia on young children. Even if the parents or guardian do not agree, the bill would authorize doctors to perform euthanasia under certain circumstances at only the child's request."

Could such a thing ever happen in America? Princeton University bioethics professor Peter Singer says parents should have the right to euthanize newborns with severe handicaps. In his recent books. Singer has said children less than one month old have no human consciousness and do not have the same rights as others. "Killing a defective infant is not morally equivalent to killing person." Singer has written. "Sometimes it is not wrong at all."

Marie Tasy, of the anti-abortion group Right to Life, said Singer's views -- and their extreme interpretations -- prev on the vulnerable. "Human history has shown us where this type of thinking can lead," she said. "If Professor Singer's views do not go unchallenged, there is a possibility that they could be adopted by health insurance companies, who are always looking to save dollars." The above facts were reported by Associated Press writer, Lori Hinnant,

Along the same line, Representative Joe Pitts (R-Pennsylvania) is calling for Congress to investigate the growing industry of selling organs, tissues and whole bodies of aborted babies. In a speech on the House floor on Tuesday, October 26, Representative Pitts stated, "Now we know why the partial-birth abortion procedure was developed: to give this industry whole body parts." CWA lobbyists have revealed fee schedules, brochures from wholesalers of body parts, and first-hand written testimony.

Among the many witnesses, Life Dynamics Incorporated, has identified 'Kelly" as a technician who formerly worked for Anatomic Gift Foundation (a company that procures aborted babies' organs to sell to researchers). "They were coming out alive." Kelly said. "with three to four live-births in a typical two-week period. The doctor would either break the neck or take a pair of tongs and basically beat the fetus until it was dead ... They were all completely intact," she said. "Sometimes the fetus appeared to be dead, but when you'd open up the chest cavity, you'd see the heart beating." Abortionists are avoiding criminal charges by calling these "therapeutic abortions," also known as livebirth abortions.

Legalized abortion in 1973 opened Pandora's box. Do you know why children now kill children for fun? They know adults are doing it for profit and no one seems to care. How far will we allow this evil cancer to spread? Isn't government - of the people? Jesus Christ said in Matthew 19:18: "Thou shalt do no murder." This is God's meaning of God's law in Exodus 20:13, and Deuteronomy 5:17: "Thou shalt not kill." God instituted government to protect the unalienable right to life of every human

It is usually difficult for parents to detect eye problems in their young children because children don't know anything is wrong. They assume that the way they see is the normal way to see, even if it is not.

Yet vision problems are fairly common among preschoolers. It is estimated that one in 20 may have some type of vision problem such as amblyopia (łazy eyes), crossed eyes or blurred vision

Lazy eye is reduced vision in an eye that has not been used enough during childhood because of blurred vision, crossed eyes or simply because one eye sees better than the other. This problem needs to be diagnosed and corrected as early as possible so that vision is not permanently affected. The signs of possible vision problems are as follows:

- the child favors one eye

- the child tilts his head when become a blur.

looking at something

- one of the eyes drifts when the child is tired, ill or in bright light - the child closes one eye, especially when in bright sunlight
- the child rubs eyes frequently
- the child blinks excessively
- the child holds objects close to the eyes in order to see them

If you suspect your child has a vision problem, contact an ophthalmologist or optometrist for a vision screening, or call the local health department. The health department schedules periodic vision and hearing screenings for any child ages 3 to 18. These screenings are conducted by a specially trained health department vision and hearing technician and are free for all children.

Protecting your child's eyesight is an important investment in his or her future. Don't let that future

Youth theatre receives boost from mini-grant

Center Performing Arts (KCPA) and Kirtland Youth Theatre (KYT) recently received notice from The Cheboygan Area Arts Council. Regional Regranting Agency announcing that KYT was awarded a $1,000 mini-grant.

The grant money will be used to support workshops and performances of Lazer Vaudeville, from April 12-14, 2000.

Six residency workshops will be Executive Director of the presented to area students April 12-13 and students in the area will attend three performances on April 14 on the campus of Kirtland Community College. The three April 14 performances have "soldout" reservations, with over 2,700 students expected to benefit from the program.

In a letter from Marilyn Florek. Project Director, and Joann P. Leal.

Cheboygan Area Arts Council, it was stated "your (KYT's) application was well written, and your project is well thought out and will serve a large area, especially the community of students in the educational component.

A provision of the grant award is that the Michigan Council of the Arts and Cultural Affairs and the Cheboygan Area Arts Council be publicly acknowledged for their support of this excellent program. Funding for the mini-grant comes from state appropriations.

For more information on Kirtland Youth Theatre, contact the Kirtland Center for the Performing Arts Office at (517) 275-5000, ext. 311.

Emergency Management expects uneventful New Year weekend

by Larry Akers, Director Crawford County Emergency Management

A recent survey has shown that public concern for any Y2K problems has diminished considerably over the past six months.

Based on information available to date. critical infrastructure in Michigan is not expected to experience any Y2K-related system failures that would significantly interrupt essential services for residents.

No reliable, detailed information has been found that potential Y2Krelated problems in Michigan's critical infrastructure providers will increase our normal vulnerabilities or exceed the capacity of current emergency plans and response capabilities.

The greatest concerns of most individuals is the vulnerability of the electric, gas, and telecommunications industries. The Emergency Management Division of the Michigan State Police has been holding a series of roundtable discussions with these and other groups to determine what action is being taken to assure that no interruptions occur. These roundtable discussions, along with information from the federal government, national utility providers, and others support the following conclusions:

• The large electric utilities responsible for the bulk-power system are progressing well. There is less assurance for the small electric utilities, but the risk they present to the bulk-power system is small, as is their risk of service disruptions.

• There is relatively less risk in the natural gas industry, and utilities are progressing well.

• In telecommunications, the public switched-network has a low probability of service interruptions due to Y2K-related problems.

· Water supply and sewage services around the state are at low risk. These are largely electromechanical, gravity systems that have manual workarounds available, and face little impact from Y2K problems.

· The emergency services are at low risk. All of them have some equipment that may be susceptible to problems. Locally, the Crawford County Sheriff's Office has installed a new computer system that is Y2K compatible. Central Dispatch also has new 911 terminals to insure that there will be no interruptions in 911 service to the county. A survey of other county emergency services providers by Crawford County Emergency Management has shown little risk of equipment failure. These are also the government agencies most likely to have emergency operations and back-up plans in place. Given these assessments and the lack of any significant evidence identifying more specific threats, the primary emergency management issues facing Michigan at this time due to Y2K rollover appear to be that public fear and misinformation may create additional hazards.

Communities at low risk from direct Y2K problems may face a pare to deal with immediate needs greater threat from inappropriate "preparedness" activities. These activities include improperly or illegally stored fuel that creates a fire hazard, increased use of generators and alternative heating and cooking devices that increases the danger from misuse of these devices, and large withdrawals of cash due to banking concerns that may lead to increase robbery, swindle and theft.

Total (100%) Y2K compliance cannot be assured, but built-in redundancy and contingency planning will help avoid service disruptions. State and local emergency management organizations in Michigan are working together to address these issues. Any Y2Krelated problems encountered by critical infrastructure providers throughout the next year should be manageable, and have little impact on the lives of Michigan

In spite of these generally optimistic findings, families should pre-not just from Y2K-related issues, but from any emergency situation. Ice storms, for example, can interrupt electric power and make a drive to the store hazardous for hours or even days at a time in Michigan.

It is always a good idea to have flashlights and fresh batteries on hand. Households should always have enough nutritious and easy-toprepare food on hand to last for a few days. These should include food for special diets. About one gallon of water per person, per day is recommended (half for drinking and half for food preparation and sanitation).

Families with special medical needs should review their plans with health care provider. their Stockpiling of medications is not recommended because it could cause shortages and some medications lose their effectiveness over time. However, it does make good sense to routinely fill prescriptions you may need before January 2000.

For more information on individual preparedness activities recommended for a relatively uneventful transition into the New Year, contact the Crawford County Emergency Management office at 348-4911.

Although no significant interruptions are expected, state and local officials are taking steps to minimize any problems that may occur. The State Emergency Operation Center (SEOC) in Lansing will be staffed with representatives from all the major utilities and service suppliers as well as emergency services

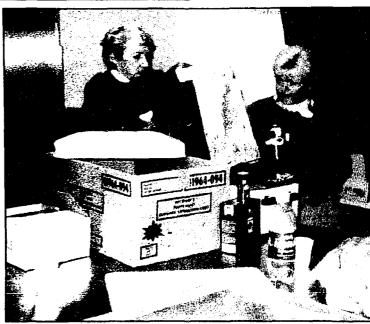

The Crawford County Emergency Operations Center (EOC) will be submitting reports to the SEOC beginning at 4 p.m. on December 31 at six hour intervals until 2 p.m. January 1. The EOC will be staffed from 10 p.m. December 31 until at least 2 a.m. January 1. Anyone who may encounter any Y2K-related problems are welcome to call the Emergency Management office at

While most Americans are celebrating the holiday season at home or with family, Navy Seaman Joni L. St. Clair, daughter of John R. St. Clair and Mary J. Swanic of Grayling, is scheduled to spend the holidays forward deployed to Yokosuka, Japan, aboard the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk.

St. Clair is one of more than 63,000 Sailors, Marines and Coast Guardsmen who are serving our country separated from their families and loved ones this holiday period.

St. Clair is working abroad to preserve peace as part of our nation's forward defense forces.

Carriers, like USS Kitty Hawk, are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times

They serve as a highly visible deterrent to would-be aggressors and, if deterrence fails, offer the most versatile and powerful weapons available, including NATO Sea Sparrow missiles and tactical aircraft.

The 1996 graduate of Grayling High School joined the Navy in September 1998. St. Clair is a 1998 graduate of Baker College in Mount Clemens, with an AA plete authority and responsibility of NRD Dallas from McDaniel to Gee and was highlighted by comments from Rear Admiral (retired) Robert C. Stack.

Gee, the daughter of Gordon and Jan Farley and granddaughter of Helen Nower, will be responsible for recruiting young men and women from a 113,000 square mile area of northern Texas and southern Oklahoma, and supervising a work force of nearly 300 officers, enlisted people and civilians to accomplish

The 1979 University of Michigan graduate has been Executive Officer at NRD Dallas since September 1998. Her previous assignments include: Executive Officer, Naval Annapolis; Executive Station Officer, Naval Consolidated Brig Assistant Chief of Staff (Administration and personnel) for Commander, Iceland Defense Force, Keflavik. Iceland: Officer-in-Charge, U.S. Naval Personnel Support Detachment. Edzell. Scotland; Staff of Commander. Naval Surface Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, Norfolk, Virginia; and Defense Intelligence Agency. Washington, D.C. She received her commission as a Navy Ensign in 1981 from the Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island.

Gee holds a Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Urban Services from Old Dominion University, a Master of Arts Degree in National Security and Strategic Studies from the College of Naval Command and Staff, Newport, Rhode Island, a Master of Science in Sports Medicine from the University of Arizona and a Bachelor's of Science in Exercise and Sports Science from the University of Michigan.

Talk Back...

Question: I take an antiacid because it helps me and I can get calcium at the same time. Is this OK?

Answer: The antiacid is very poor biochemistry, as it neutralizes one of the most important of all body secretions, namely Hydrochloric Acid. Without normal acidity, a persons ability to digest is brought to a standstill. In addition, pepsin, an important digestive enzyme that breaks down protein such as meat, cannot function properly without acid. Moreover, minerals such as calcium cannot be assimilated sufficiently without a proper acid environ-

Ironically, those who routinely take antiacids usually need more acid and pepsin - not less. A person taking antiacids is not digesting food. Instead, your food rots creating gas and an organic acid produced from the rotting food. Putrefaction is protein rotting. Fermentation is carbohydrate rotting. Rancification is fats rotting.

The acid giving you the problem is from improper and incomplete digestion. Obviously, antiacids can give temporary relief but you are masking only the symptom and not the true problem. Worse, continued use can lead to a potentially fatal form of anemia called Pernicious Anemia. The next time you reach for your Prilosec or Tums, consider something better. Frostbite - The Cold Weather Menace!

Question: My son was outside playing all afternoon one day and I noticed some white patches on his cheeks. I brought him inside at once. Was this the start of frostbite? What should people do if they suspect their skin is frostbitten?

Signed:Out in the cold

Answer: Frostbite can creep up suddenly and be difficult to notice. If someone has been outside for awhile, they may already feel numbness and cold in the extremities, so symptoms of frostbite go unnoticed. The first symptom is usually a tingling burning pain that should set off a warning that frostbite could occur. When this symptom is noticed, go inside and get warm, or if that is not possible, move around vigorously to increase circulation. Frostbite usually ranges from mild to serious. Each type requires a dif- culation ferent first aid treatment. For any type, it is important to remember not to rub or massage frost bitten skin (either with or without snow) and not to put on any ointments.

The mildest stage of frostbite is called frost nip. At this stage, numbness occurs followed by whitening of the skin. The nose, ears, hands or feet are frequent sites for frost nip. The best treatment is to directly apply warmth - your warm breath or someone else's is 'deal. Blow your finger or have someone else blow on your ears. If your nose is affected, take off your mittens and cover your nose with warm hands. Put your hands that are affected in your armpits. If burning and tingling starts, your skin is warming up. This type of frostbite should not cause any lasting effects and probably won't need medical attention.

Superficial frostbite is more serious and will require prompt first aid as well as medical attention. The frost bitten area will look very white and waxy and will feel hard on the surface if very gently pressed. Bring the person in from th cold and warm the area with warm - not hot - water (100° to 105°) by either using a soft wet towel or by immersing the affected limb. Avoid dry heat or heat that is uncontrolled such as a campfire. Caution the victim not to rub frost bitten hands or feet or try to walk on them. Then transport the victim to an emergency room or doctor's office, keeping the area warm at all times.

Deep frostbite, or frozen very hard blotchy or blue tissue requires immediate assistance. Don't try warming techniques. Wrap the frozen areas in a blanket or soft material so bruising doesn't occur, try to keep elevated and get to the. hospital.

Preventing frostbite:

- avoid alcohol, which increases the loss of body heat, clouds judgement, and adversely affects the sense of touch

- avoid smoking - it decreases cir-

- dress yourself and children in layers of light clothing rather than heavy clothing

- wear a hat or earmuffs to protect ears and prevent heat loss through the scalp

- come inside if clothes become

- wear properly fitting boots - not too tight which decreases circulation. Boots should cover ankles. If socks become wet, newspaper or other paper in boots will help insu-

- wear mittens instead of gloves - don't wear earrings outside in the cold since metal conducts cold and increases your risk of frostbite -skiers, skaters and sledders can create their own wind. When facing keep a watch for frostbite.

JV Vikes open with two wins

► Grayling defeats Roscommon and West Branch to start '99-00 season 2-0

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

Grayling's JV basketball team got off to a good start last week, winning its season opener on Tuesday, December 7, and its home opener last Friday.

The Vikings started the new season with a 71-52 win over the Roscommon Bucks at Roscommon last Tuesday in a very physical contest. Fifty-four fouls were called in the match, resulting in 74 overall free throw shots.

Both teams played with a lot of intensity at the beginning of the game. Grayling had a slight edge after the first eight minutes, leading Rosco 16-14.

The Vikings got points from R.J. Schmidt, Chet Wheeler, Wes Fox, and Larry Baynham.

The second quarter was a tough, physical battle as the teams struggled for quality shots near the basket. The two squads combined for 29 fouls in the eight-minute quarter, resulting in 16 trips to the free throw

The Vikes fed by eight at halftime. 35-27

Grayling held the Bucks to 10 third period points, while scoring 13, to bring the GHS lead up to 11. The Vikings scored points on a jumper and two free throws by Ryan Stahl, a short bank shot by Nick D'Amour, three free throws by Baynham, a shot inside by Mike Hale, and a drive by Dan Mead.

Grayling finished strong, scoring

23 points in the final period to build a 19-point lead by the end buzzer. GHS won 71-52.

"We started out tight, but the kids improved as the game went on," said Coach Butch Hayes. "Our defense and intensity were good for this time of year. We have shown steady improvement."

Baynham turned in a good offensive performance, leading the Viking scoring with 24 points. Stahl added 18 points, and Schmidt scored 11. Stahl was the top rebounder with

As a team, the Vikes edged Rosco on the boards 22-18. Grayling shot 25 of 49 from the floor, and hit 25 of 37 free throws in the match.

LAST FRIDAY, the JV team hosted an always tough West Branch Ogemaw Heights squad, defeating the visiting Falcons 58-53 in an exciting contest.

The two teams were evenly matched. Both squads used full court pressure defense and patient offenses in a game in which every possession counted. The game was close for the entire 32 minutes.

The teams set the pace early, as defense dominated play in a lowscoring first period.

Grayling scored points on a shot inside by Stahl, a jumper and a drive by Fox, a fast break lay-up and a free throw by D'Amour, and a bucket by Baynham.

The Vikes led 11-8 going into the second quarter.

West Branch opened the period with a 6-0 scoring run to take a three point lead, but Grayling hit the next three baskets to give the Vikings a 17-14 edge.

The teams battled back and forth, resulting in a tight game at halftime, Continued on Page 2B

Hanson Hills prepares to make snow

▶ Temperatures not quite low enough for snow-making

Dreaming of a white Christmas? Hanson Hills certainly is. Thanks to snowguns, the local winter sports park has the ability to make snow if Mother Nature doesn't produce it herself.

The crew at Hanson Hills has rolled out the park's two Highland snowguns, tested them, and performed the necessary seasonal maintenance. Currently, the park staff is waiting for the temperature and humidity to drop in order to create a favorable environment for snow-making.

"To get started we need the temperature to fall and stay around 28 degrees with humidity somewhere below 60 percent," said Dale Metzer, Director of Maintenance and Ski Operations. "We are looking for an extended forecast of cold weather before we can start making snow."

The best conditions for making snow consist of temperatures in the teens combined with very low humidity.

"Even with ideal conditions, it takes our two guns approximately a week to produce a base of six to eight inches on one of our runs," said Metzer. "Compare that with Boyne, which has 160 guns, and Continued on Page 4B

Indoor skate park to open at Hanson Hills

► GRA hopes to provide a safe and welcome haven for local skaters

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

Due in large part to the efforts and interest of local skateboarders. Grayling Recreation Authority (GRA) has decided to install an indoor skate park in the Fred Bear Memorial Building at Hanson Hills.

GRA Sports Director Joe Lehman was approached by a group of local skaters regarding the establishment of a skate park in Grayling, and GRA later decided to take on the Previously, a group of Grayling Middle School students had submitted a detailed skate park proposal to the Grayling City Council for consideration. The council passed the proposal on to the Community Improvement Authority Board, which opted to support the GRA plan rather than try to do a skate park project within the city.

"We knew of the interest," said Cindy Olson, GRA Director. "They need a place that's safe, welcome, and supervised."

Lehman noted that several places in town are used by skaters during the non-winter months, but they are not always welcomed.

"The Grayling Middle School grounds are good for skating but they're not designed for that," Lehman said.

"The closest indoor park is Kalamazoo," Lehman said.

GRA wants to change that, with the addition of the indoor skate park to Hanson Hills.

GRA currently has only a limited amount of ramps, but hopes to add several more as the money becomes

"This is kind of a strange thing." said Olson, "We're doing it in pieces as the money comes in. We wanted to do it all at once clatery. but the kids were so excited about it. They want it really bad, and need

Volleyball team takes 2nd at Rosco tourney

► Vikings win 8 straight games, lose 2-1 heartbreaker in championship series

rayling's varsity volleyball Graying s vasary team is off to a strong start this season, after opening the year with a second place finish at the Roscommon Christmas Classic invitational tournament, which was held this past Saturday.

The Vikings won their first eight games of the tourney, beating Benzie Central (15-13, 15-9). Houghton Lake (15-8, 15-2), Charlevoix (15-7, 15-1), and host Roscommon (15/12, 15-11).

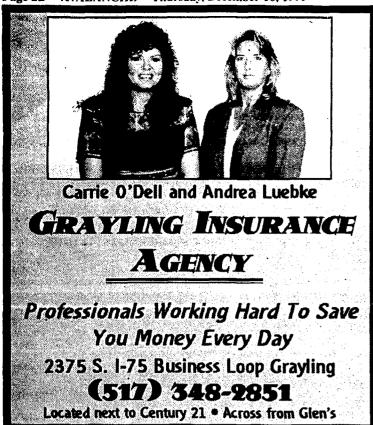

Jenny Phillips and Mel Paxton both played very well for Grayling. as each earned a spot on the alltournament team. Phillips had 4Q kills on the day, and Paxton had 35. Paxton also added 35 digs to GHS effort. In another noteworthy performance, Michelle Salyers scored 11 aces for Grayling.

After disposing of their first four opponents in just eight matches. Grayling matched up with Mason County Central for the tournament championship.

Mason won the first game 15-13 despite an early 7-1 GHS lead.

"Our kids played well defensively in the first three quarters," said Coach Rich Moffit. "We are making progress hitting the offensive and defensive boards, and we need to continue to show improvement in those areas."

(Grayling outrebounded Rosco 30-18.)

"It was a real plus that we had so many people at Roscommon," continued Moffit. "Our crowd support was excellent and our team appreciated it a great deal."

THE VIKINGS also won their second game of the young season, beating West Branch Ogemaw Heights, a North East Michigan Conference team, by six points (67-61) last Friday.

The Falcons led early, outscoring GHS 16-12 in the first period.

Grayling's points came from a drive by Tobin, a jumper by Gorski, and eight points by Hawkins, including a jam.

Down four, the Vikes came back strong. To open the second quarter, GHS hit nine unanswered points, all of which came from Hinkle.

Hinkle hit four free throws, a three pointer, and scored a slam dunk to give Grayling a 21-16 lead.

WBOH kept the game close for the rest of the period, as the Vikings held a four point lead at halftime, 33-29.

Grayling edged WBOH 15-12 in third quarter scoring to take a seven-point lead into the fourth period.

The Vikings scored points on two three-pointers by Hinkle, a triple and two free throws by Hawkins, and two shots inside by Fritz.

The Falcons kept the match close, but Grayling held off the WBOH comeback attempts.

West Branch hit a bucket with 52 seconds left to cut the Grayling lead to three, 64-61. GHS came back with a shot inside by Hawkins on an assist by Gorski. Grayling got the ball back, and WBOH was forced to foul.

Hinkle hit one of two from the line at 0:22 remaining to put the score at Grayling 67, West Branch 61. Neither team would score again, leaving the final tally at 67-

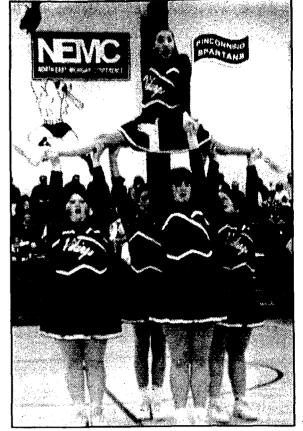

"Our defensive intensity was excellent throughout the game," said Coach Moffit. "I was also pleased with the mental toughness of our kids. Ogemaw made some strong runs at us, and our kids responded each time."

Hinkle led the GHS scoring with 25 points. Hawkins also had a good game with 21. Tobin added 11 points.

Hawkins was the top Viking rebounder with 18. As a team, the Vikes outrebounded the Falcons 42-26.

Gorski led the team in assists with six. Tobin had five.

Grayling's next game will be against the Flying G's at Gladwin this Friday. The Vikings will play at Gaylord on Tuesday, December 21.

Short-handed Vikings lose opener to Roscommon

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

The GHS freshmen basketball team turned in a gutsy performance at its season opener last Wednesday, but lost to the visiting Roscommon Bucks by a final score of 41-32.

The Grayling team, which has only six players this season, worked hard to stay in the game against a steady Roscommon offense.

The Bucks scored three buckets and four free throws in the first period, while holding GHS to three points. Rosco played an aggressive full court pressure defense, setting up scoring opportunities with steals.

Roscommon led 10-3 after one period of play.

Grayling played better defense for most of the second quarter, and started to generate some points on the offensive end. An 11-2 run by the Vikings gave GHS its first lead

The run included eight points by James Kenney, a free throw by James Lawrence, and a long jumper by Caleb Mead.

Mead's jump shot with 1:25 left in the half put Grayling up by two, 14-

Roscommon answered with a three-pointer, retaking the lead.

With 1:01 left Kenney scored a lay-up, his ninth and tenth points of of the quarter, to put GHS back up Roscommon then scored three quick baskets to round out the half, scoring buckets on steals created by the full court pressure defense.

The Bucks led 21-16 at halftime. Both teams hit for eight points in the third, leaving the Roscommon lead at five going into the fourth Grayling scored points on two lay-ups by Chris Wakeley, a short jumper by Mead, and a lay-in by Lance Harmer on a nice dish by Wakeley.

GHS was still in the game, but couldn't gain any more ground. Roscommon continued to run a consistent offense, finishing strong to

With 2:30 left in the game, Harmer hit lay-up on an assist by Mead to put the Rosco lead at six. The Bucks then hit six unanswered points to extend their lead to 12, with under one minute left.

Grayling scored four more points on a three-pointer by Adam Kaiser and a free throw by Kenney as the clock ticked away.

The Bucks won the game by nine,

High scorer for Grayling was Kenney with 12 points. Mead and Harmer each scored six.

The Vikings will head to Gladwin on Thursday, December 16. On Monday, December 20, GHS will return to the home floor for a match against the Gaylord Blue Devils. The game against Gaylord starts at 6:30 p.m.

with GHS leading by one, 24-23. After a low scoring first half, both teams opened it up a little more on the offensive end, scoring 37 combined points in the third period. The Vikes led by two heading into the fourth quarter, 43-41.

Grayling grabbed a couple steals and scored five unanswered points to open the fourth period, building a little momentum in front of the home crowd.

Shots inside by Baynham and Scott Latusek and a free throw by Stahl gave the Vikings a seven-point lead (48-41) with six minutes to

Following a tip-in by Schmidt,

West Branch scored a bucket to pull within three, 50-47, with just under three minutes to play.

Grayling then scored six unanswered points on a shot inside by Schmidt, a jumper by Mead, and and D'Amour to take a nine-point lead, 56-47.

With time running out, West Branch hit two free throws and a two-point bucket to cut the GHS lead to five (56-51) with 23 seconds

Baynham was fouled on the next Grayling possession at the 0:15 mark, and hit both shots on the bonus opportunity to put GHS back up by seven. WBOH hit one more bucket in the last seconds, but the game was already Grayling's.

The Vikes won 58-53.

"This was a good game to test how physical we are," said Coach Hayes. "We played a very good secone free throw each by Baynham ond half. Defensively we got after the ball. We ended the game with 49 deflections, so our intensity was, good."

On offense, three players hit double digits in scoring for Grayling: Schmidt (11), D'Amour (11) and Mead (10). Stahl added eight points, and Baynham scored seven.

The Vikings will play at Gladwin this Friday, and will head to Gaylord on Tuesday, December 21. The Gaylord game starts at 6 p.m.

Indoor skate park to open at Hanson Hills

The skate park, located inside the Fred Bear Building, has three pieces of equipment right now: a quarter pipe, a small fun box, and a large fun box, each of which were donated by the families of local skaters.

GRA has blueprints from RampTech, a professional rampdesigning company, for the construction of several more skate ramps, including a half-pipe and a pyramid, which the GRA directors plan to build and add to the new park as soon as possible.

GRA is currently accepting donations from sponsors for new park equipment, as well as donations of building materials. Also, space for advertising within the skate park is available. Contact GRA at 348-9266 for more information.

The skate park as it is equipped now will open on Thursday. December 23. The park will be open to users during the following time periods: Thursday and Friday, 3:30 Lehman. p.m.-8 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m.-8 p.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

Cost for use of the park will be $3 on Thursday and Friday. $6 on Saturdays, and $4 on Sundays. The cost per day covers use of the facility during the entire time the park is open on that day. Prices will go up as more equipment is added to the park, Olson said.

Monthly passes will be available starting in 2000. January monthly passes will be sold at a special introductory rate of $40.

Skate park users and their parents will have to sign a release form prior to entrance. Forms will be available at several local sources before the park opens.

Helmets are required for all skaters. Knee and elbow pads are also required, unless the skater's parents give permission otherwise.

"A lot of injuries (in this sport) are to the elbows and knees." noted

As an added convenience. Hanson Hills is offering a new program this year: the "After School Special." The program runs eight weeks, from January 6 to February

With the after school special, students can take a pre-arranged Dial-A-Ride bus from school to Hanson Hills every Thursday and Friday for a special rate ($24). Another $48. will cover use of the skate park for the two days during the eight week interval.

On Tuesday, December 7, Lehman and Olson met with a group of local skaters concerning the upcoming project, and watched the participants give the equipment a test run after the meeting. Both were impressed.

"It was amazing what these kids were doing." they said, "flipping their boards over and jumping on to another board. They skated for Hanson Hills.

hours on just those three ramps. We basically had to kick them out."

"We're really excited about this," said Lehman. "We just thought it was a great idea when the skateboarders brought it to us. We're excited at Hanson Hills to be able to provide the opportunity to the kids

"We think it's another great opportunity we can offer the kids," said Olson. "It will be a lot better environment for them. We're concerned about safety and the need for a location, a place to be."

"Especially in the winter," added Lehman. "I'm sure that with the community support for every other event, it will be no problem to get this going very quickly.

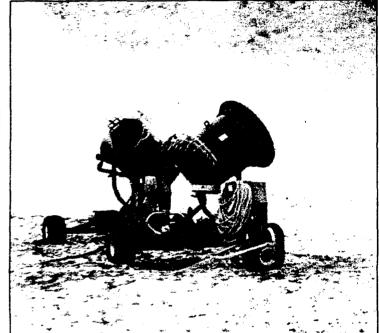

In addition to sponsorship donations, GRA is collecting used safety equipment and skateboards to be used as rentals in the park. To donate, contact GRA or stop by

A STORY THAT EVERY BANK WOULD LIKE TO TELL, BUT ONLY EMPIRE BANK CAN.

The Carhop Teller Ine fine Saturday, Empire Bank Teller Therese Kaiser dropped

by her branch to visit a teller flying solo in the drive-through for the first time. All was well. Then, up drove a couple from downstate who wanted an Empire checking account for their weekends up here. (Smart couple.) Well, the lobby was closed and

thing Therese was around! She got the forms, toted a clipboard out to their car and signed them up. Said it felt just like her old job as a carhop. Therese didn't get a tip and the couple didn't get any fries. But it shows why Empire Bank is different!

This really happened.

Signed,

Jim Dutmers

Chairman, Empire Bank

For The Week Of December 19-25

Aries March 21-April 20

Wrapping gifts we loo the least of and problems are on the rise at work. You cannot handle all of the projects alone, so don't be alraid trask for a little help. As for the reblems, you can work them out.

Taurus April 21-May 21

Don't laugh off a relative's idea concerning a holiday celebration. It may seem pretty lame at first, ber it could be a great way for both the kids and the adults to enjoy the holiday even more. Watch what you say to a coworker.

Gemini May 22-June 21

This is never the best time of year for you as far as money is concerned. Take it easy this year. You have been staying within your budget all year-now is not the time to blow it. Don't blow your diet either. Holiday goodies are not worth the extra weight.

Cancer June 22-July 22

You cannot buy friendship with gifts. Don't even try it. Instead, try being a true friend. Be particularly considerate of a friend who had a rough year. The holidays will not be an easy time for him/her with all the memories there are to face.

July 23-August 23

A tun holiday party may be just what everyone needs! Even though everyone is really busy, a few hours of run with friends and family could relieve a lot of stress. Remember to invite a coworker who has had some rough times.

Virgo August 24-September 22

Don't let an irritable relative spotl your holiday fun. Try keeping ham/her busy with little thingssuch as wrapping gifts, baking, shopping or decorating. Try to be d about a gift you get, even if a takes you by surprise

Libra September 23-October 23

Bah, humbug! Boy, you can really ruin a lot of people's holiday fun with your attitude. Even though life isn't going well for you right now, it's no reason to make everyone else feel bad, too. Think of someone else for a change.

Scorpio October 24-November 22

Give yourself something special for the holidays. Take a quick trip to a bed and breakfast for the weekend or just overnight. Or get a massage or a makeover. Choose something to recharge your emotional batteries.

Segittarius November 23-December 21

You and your coworkers may want to consider giving to a worthy cause instead of exchanging gifts this year. You've all been trying to outdo each other. This is a great way for all of you to help others and get along better, too.

Capricorn December 22-January 20

You may get an opportunity to show off your creativity during the holidays. Take advantage of the opportunity: it just may be the break you need. An elderly relative needs your love and attention to help make his/her day special.

Aquarius January 21-February 18

Once the holidays are behind you, you may want to check out some new investment opportunities. Your busy schedule might cause some problems at home. Whatever you do, don't forget a date important to someone close to you

Pisces February 19-March 20

So it's not such a great time of year for you. Don't take it out on others. You'll only spoil their fun, and it won't make you feel any better. Maybe you could do some volunteer work to help get your mind off your

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Turkey Pot Pie

6 to 8 servings

- 1/4 cup vegetable oil 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 1/4 cups self-rising flour
- 2 cups turkey broth
- 1 1/2 cups cooked cubed turkey
- 8 oz. package frozen mixed
- vegetables 1/2 cup non-dairy
- margarine 1/2 cup Vitamite

Preheat oven to 450°. In large skillet, saute' onion in oil; add 1/4 cup of flour and stir in broth until smooth. Add turkey and vegetables. Pour into a 2quart casserole dish. Mix together margarine and remaining flour with a blender; pastry add Vitamite and mix to a dough-like texture. Roll on a floured surface to 1/4' thickness, shape to fit top of casserole dish and place on top of turkey mixture. Bake at 450° for 15 minutes until crust is golden brown.

HOME NEEDED - Lab/Shepherd mix male puppies, approx. 8 weeks old. To adopt any of the pets available, stop by or give the Animal Shelter of Crawford County a call at 348-4117.

> The Board of Education has the plan of expansion and remodeling that they believe meets the Grayling Schools needs today with adequate allowance for the probable growth in enrollments in the years to come. Present plans call for a new gymnasium, stage, complete locker room facilities, both for boys and girls, a band and music area, a hot lunch kitchen and eating space inleuding a place for community use. It is proposed that this structure be creeted on the lots now owned by the school district across Spruce Street from the present school building. The present gym would be remodeled into classrooms on both floors. This added classroom space would make it possible to enlarge and modernize such school departments as homemaking, commerce and natural science. As one Grayling School official said, "... to be ready for tomorrow we must act today.

> The Grayling City Council approved the construction of a lighted recreation area in the City Park with funds to come from donations of the public at large. They dedicated the entire park in the same resolution as a "Memorial Park."

At the same meeting, the City Council approved the resolution to close Spruce Street between Ottawa and Ogemaw to offer more safety to the school children and to aid a school enlargement program.

The City Council also went on record as tayoring the removal of the dam on the AuSable River at the US-2" bridge. The Conservation Department will now go ahead with the removal.

RICHARD LOVELL'S 50th Birthday Tribute

On December 15th in '49
You came into this world a little bit blue.
It didn't last long and soon you were fine
A tiny little baby, so perfect and new.

While growing up you had plenty of tumbles and spills
And a couple of bones you surely did break.
These things will give any mother those tingling chills.
"Be careful!" she'd say, "For goodness sake!"

A Karmann Ghia and a job at Wert's Lone Pine
Fancy footwork to dodge the bullet from the .22
God's plan for you has always been right in line;
Heavenly Angels kept you safe, and are still watching over you

Our country you served in the grand Navy way. Newport was your home for awhile. Which lever? Oops! You flooded the hanger bay! How could the officer do anything but smile?

And now happily married — the years are 15.

A beautiful daughter and a handsome son, too.

My love for you is forever strong, as you have seen.

And with God's grace, may you always have skies that are blue.

Through happiness, laughter, tears of joy and of sorrow. But today, I just wanted to find a special way to say "Happy Birthday! Love you now and for each and every tomorrow 7 here you have it – no OVER THE HILL jokes I'll make.

As you open your gifts, don't look for a birthday tie or a shirt.

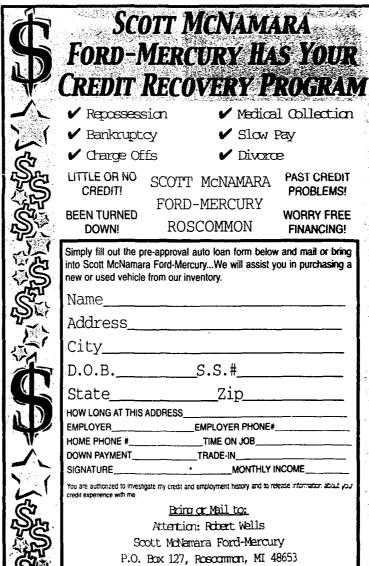

Now take a deep breath to blow out all those candles on your cake.

Oh! But I must remember to put the Fire Department on alert!

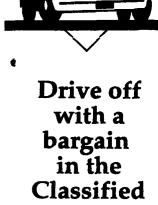

~~~ Karon ~~
